1. Introduction

1.1 Purpose

This manual explains how to use GuessLow as a customer. It covers finding an auction, placing a bid, following the result and claiming a prize. No technical knowledge is needed.

1.2 Who This Manual Is For

Anyone who opens GuessLow from the super app to take part in an auction. If you manage auctions on behalf of the bank, please refer to the GuessLow Administrator User Manual instead.

1.3 What GuessLow Is

GuessLow is an auction where premium items are won for a fraction of what they are worth. You do not bid the highest amount to win. You bid the lowest amount that nobody else has chosen.

You pay a small bid service fee for each bid you place. The amount you bid is not charged when you place it. Only the winner pays their winning amount, in addition to the fee.

2. How Winning Works

GuessLow is a lowest unique bid auction. The winner is the person holding the lowest amount that nobody else submitted.

The lowest bid does not automatically win. Only the lowest unique bid wins.

2.1 A Worked Example

Imagine an auction receives these bids:

Amount	How many people chose it	Is it unique?
1.00 Br	Two people	No
2.00 Br	One person	Yes
3.00 Br	Two people	No
4.00 Br	One person	Yes

Only 2.00 Br and 4.00 Br were chosen by exactly one person. The lower of those two wins, so 2.00 Br takes the prize — not 1.00 Br, even though it is lower, because two people chose it.

Remember. Bidding as low as possible is not a winning strategy on its own. Everyone else is trying to bid low too, so the very lowest amounts are usually chosen by more than one person. You are guessing which low amount the others will avoid.

2.2 Why You Cannot See Other People's Amounts

While an auction is running, you can see your own bid amounts and nobody else's. Everyone else's appear hidden. This is deliberate: if you could see which amounts had been taken, you would know exactly which amount would win, and the auction would not be fair.

All amounts are revealed once the auction closes and its result is published.

3. Getting Started

3.1 Opening GuessLow

GuessLow opens from inside the super app. There is no separate registration form and no password to remember — the super app identifies you, and GuessLow uses your registered phone number as your account.

You can browse the home page, the auction list and any individual auction without signing in. You will be identified automatically before you place your first bid, view your bids, or claim a prize.

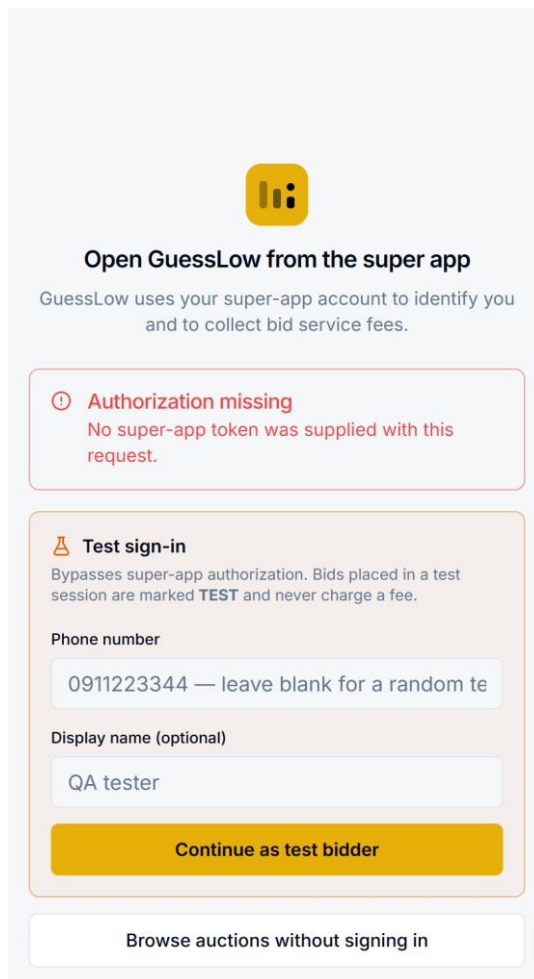

Figure 3.1: The GuessLow entry screen. In normal use the super app signs you in automatically and you go straight to the page you tapped.

3.2 The Screen Header

The header stays with you throughout the app:

- En / አማ — switches the app between English and Amharic.

- Gavel icon with a number — how many bids you have placed.
- Person icon — opens your profile.

4. The Home Screen

The home screen introduces the current auctions and shows what other customers have won. Reading down the page you will find:

Section	What it shows
Start Bidding Now	Takes you straight to the list of auctions.
Live counters	How many auctions are running, how many bids have been placed, and how many winners there have been.
Categories	Tap a category to see only those items.
Featured Items	Auctions the team has highlighted.
Recent winners	Real results — the item, the winner and the winning amount.
How It Works	A four-step summary and the worked example.

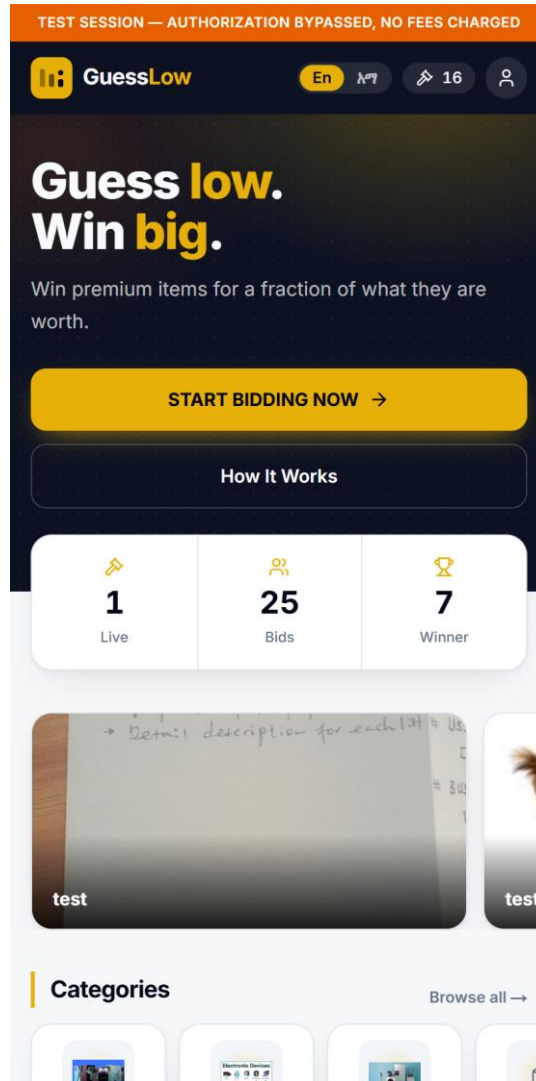

Figure 4.1: The top of the home screen — the opening banner, the live counters and the category tiles.

How It Works

Four steps, no small print.

- Pick an auction
 Every item shows its service fee and auction code up front.
- Guess low — and unique
 Submit an amount nobody else has picked. Many amounts allowed.
- Everything stays sealed
 Bid statuses are hidden while the auction runs, so nothing leaks.
- Lowest unique bid wins
 At zero, the lowest amount held by exactly one bidder takes it.

Worked example

Bids of 1.00 ×2, 2.00 ×1, 3.00 ×2, 4.00 ×1.

Only 2.00 and 4.00 were picked once, so 2.00 wins — not 1.00, even though it is lower.

START BIDDING NOW →

5. Browsing Auctions

Select Start Bidding Now, or the gavel icon, to see every auction.

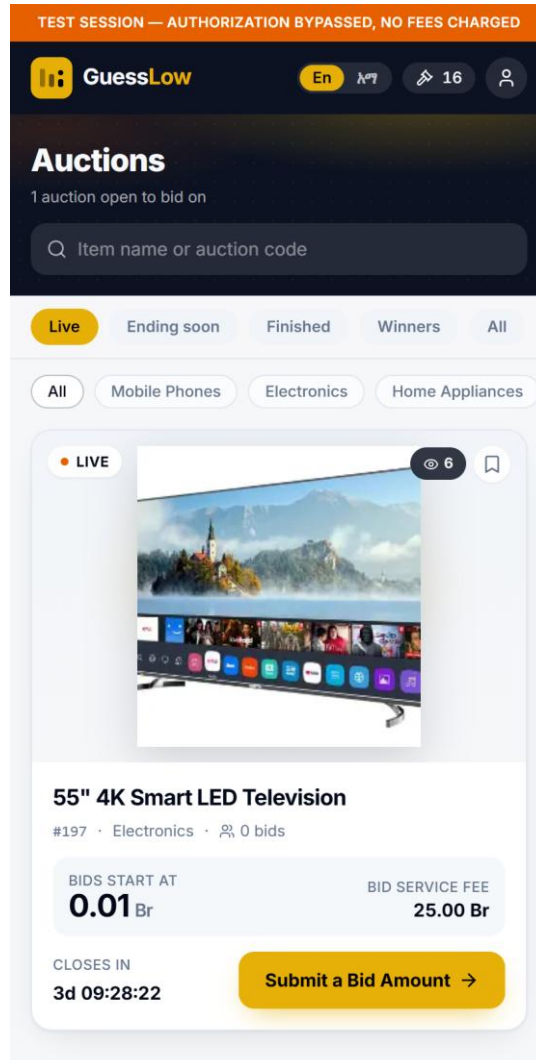

Figure 5.1: The auction list. Each card shows the item, its status, the time remaining and the bid service fee.

Tap any card to open that auction.

6. Reading an Auction Page

The auction page carries everything you need in order to choose an amount.

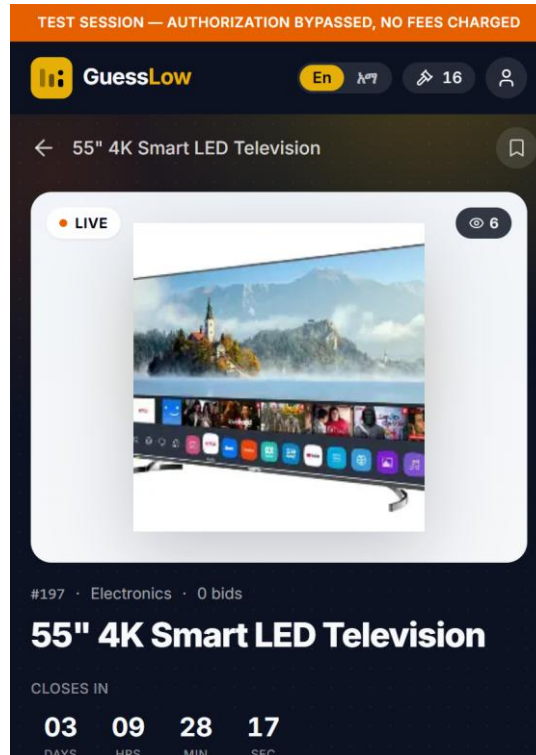

Figure 6.1: The top of a running auction — the item, and the countdown to the moment bidding closes.

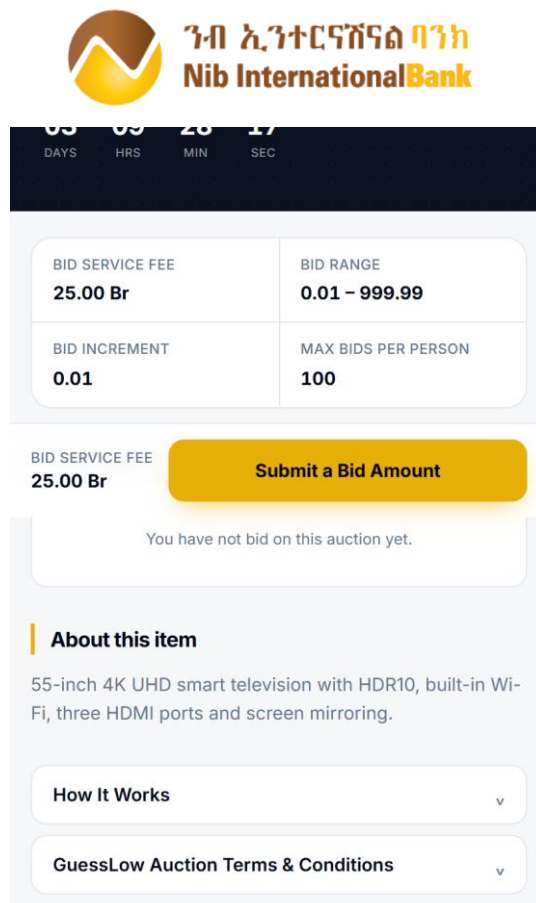

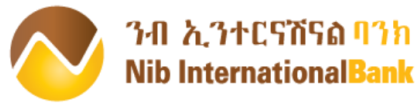

Figure 6.2: The rules for this auction, with Submit a Bid Amount fixed to the bottom of the screen.

What you see	What it means
Closes in	A live countdown to the moment bidding closes.
Bid service fee	What each bid costs you. It is taken from your super-app wallet.
Bid range	The lowest and highest amount you are allowed to submit.
Bid increment	The step your amount must land on. With a 0.01 increment, 4.75 is allowed and 4.752 is not.
Max bids per person	How many bids you may place on this auction.
Your bids	How many of your allowance you have used so far.

Further down the page you will find a description of the item, a short How It Works explanation, and the terms and conditions that apply to this particular auction.

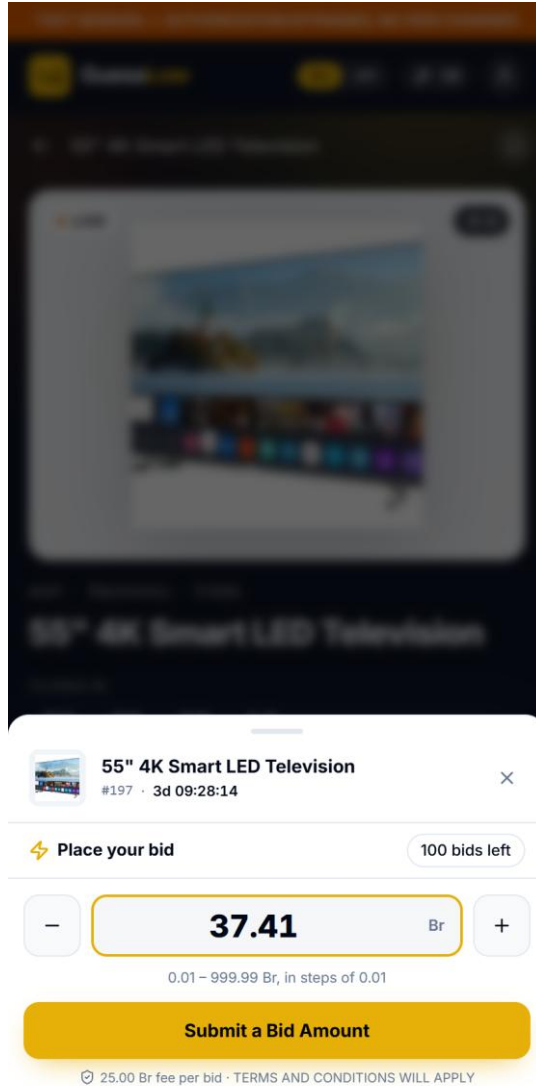

The bar fixed to the bottom of the screen repeats the fee and holds the Submit a Bid Amount button, so it is always within reach.

7. Placing a Bid

Placing a bid takes three steps. Nothing is charged and nothing is registered until you complete the last one.

7.1 Step One — Choose Your Amount

1. Open the auction you want to enter.
2. Select Submit a Bid Amount. A panel slides up from the bottom of the screen.
3. Type your amount, or use the – and + buttons to move one increment at a time.
4. Select Submit a Bid Amount inside the panel to continue.

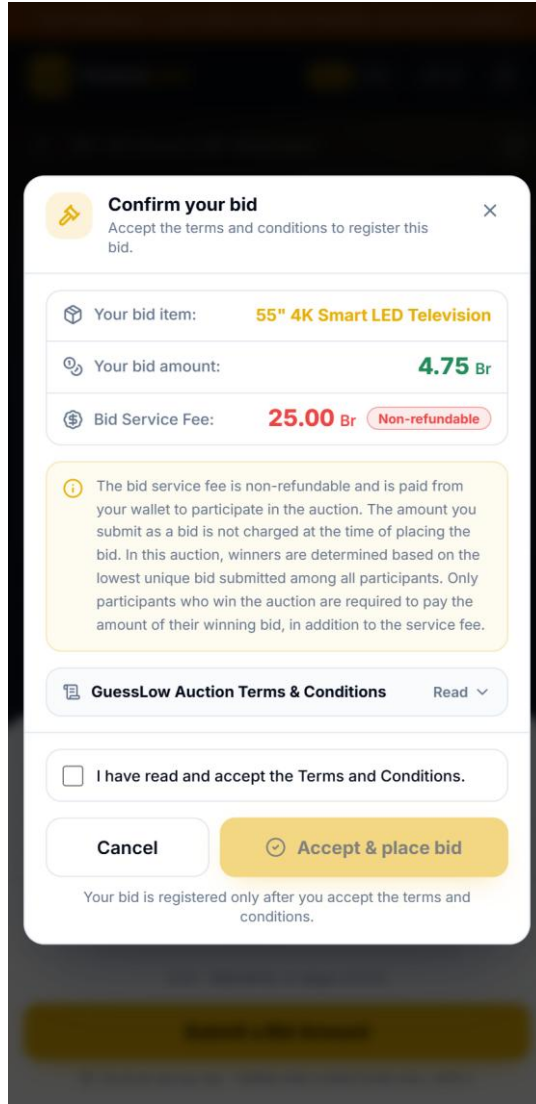

The screenshot shows a mobile application interface for placing a bid. At the top, there's a header with the bank's logo and name. Below it, a blurred image of a television is visible. The main section features a card for the item: "55" 4K Smart LED Television" with a small thumbnail, item ID "#197", and a countdown timer "3d 09:28:14". Below the card, there's a "Place your bid" button with a lightning bolt icon. To the right of this button, a pill-shaped indicator shows "100 bids left". Below these, there's a numeric input field with a minus sign on the left and a plus sign on the right. The field contains the value "37.41" followed by the currency code "Br". Below the input field, a line of text specifies the allowed range and step: "0.01 - 999.99 Br, in steps of 0.01". At the bottom of the form is a large yellow button labeled "Submit a Bid Amount". Below this button, a small line of text states: "25.00 Br fee per bid - TERMS AND CONDITIONS WILL APPLY".

7.2 Step Two — Confirm and Accept the Terms

A confirmation screen appears. This is the last point at which nothing has happened yet.

Confirm your bid ×

Accept the terms and conditions to register this bid.

Your bid item: 55" 4K Smart LED Television

Your bid amount: 4.75 Br

Bid Service Fee: 25.00 Br Non-refundable

Information: The bid service fee is non-refundable and is paid from your wallet to participate in the auction. The amount you submit as a bid is not charged at the time of placing the bid. In this auction, winners are determined based on the lowest unique bid submitted among all participants. Only participants who win the auction are required to pay the amount of their winning bid, in addition to the service fee.

7.4 If a Bid Is Not Accepted

GuessLow will tell you why a bid was not accepted. The usual reasons are:

- The terms and conditions were not accepted.
- The auction has already closed.
- The amount is outside the allowed range, or does not sit on the increment.
- You have already used that exact amount on this auction.
- You have reached the maximum number of bids for this auction.
- You are bidding again too quickly — wait a moment and try again.
- The auction is open to invited participants only, and your number is not on the list.

8. Following Your Bids

Select My Bids from your profile, or the gavel icon in the header, to see everything you have entered.

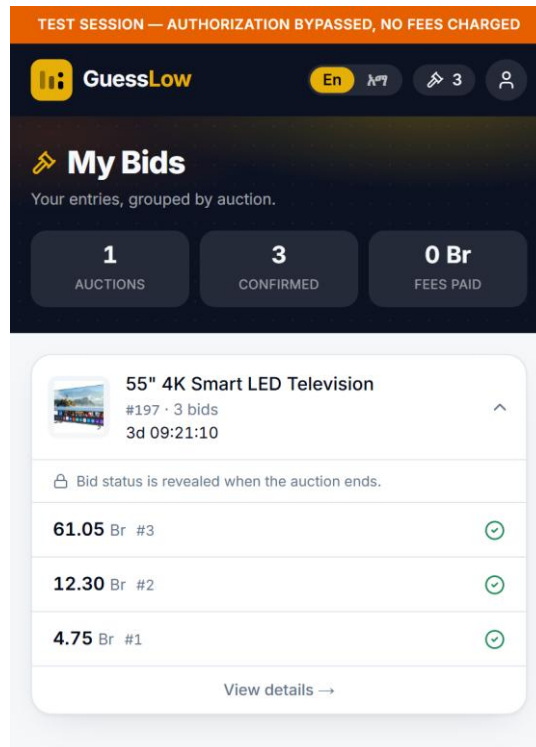

Figure 8.1: My Bids groups your entries by auction. The padlock line is a reminder that bid status stays sealed until the auction ends.

The banner at the top counts the auctions you are taking part in, the bids you have placed and the fees you have paid. Each auction appears as a card you can open or collapse.

9. When an Auction Closes

When bidding closes, GuessLow works out the result and publishes it. Every amount is then revealed.

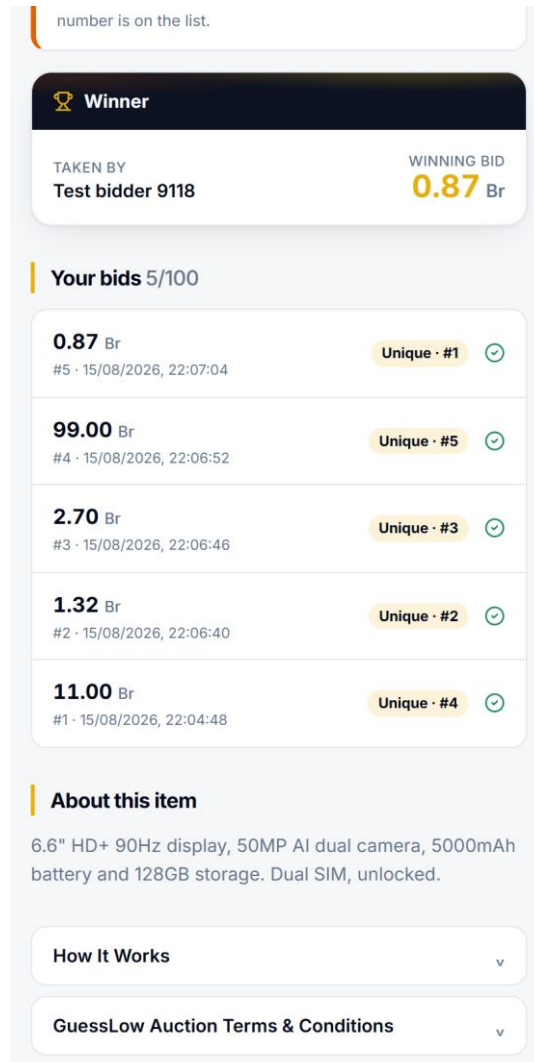

Figure 9.1: A closed auction. The winner and the winning bid are published, and each of your own bids now shows whether it was unique and where it ranked.

Three things appear that were not there while the auction was running:

- The Winner panel — who took the item, and the winning amount.
- Your own bids, each marked with whether it was unique and where it ranked.
- The full result, so you can see how the outcome was reached.

9.1 Checking the Result for Yourself

After an auction closes, GuessLow can publish a list of every amount that was bid and how many bids landed on each one. It lets you confirm for yourself that the amounts cheaper than the winning one were each chosen by more than one person, and that the winning amount was chosen by only one.

9.2 When Nobody Wins

Sometimes an auction closes without a winner. This happens when every amount was chosen by more than one person, or when too few bids were placed for a fair result. The item is not awarded, and the auction may be run again.

10. Claiming a Prize

If you win, you are notified by SMS and a claim window opens. Claim your prize from the Wins screen before the deadline shown.

Figure 10.2: Each win card shows the winning bid, how much you saved, the claim deadline in orange, and the claim form itself.

10.1 How to Claim

1. Open Wins from your profile.
2. Find the card for the prize you have won.
3. Check that your name and phone number are correct.
4. Enter your delivery address — city, sub-city, woreda and a nearby landmark.
5. Add anything else the team should know. This is optional.
6. Select Submit claim before the deadline shown in orange.

Do not miss the deadline. If the claim window closes before you submit your claim, the prize is forfeited and may be offered to the runner-up.

10.2 What Happens Next

Once you submit your claim, the bank's team verifies your details and arranges delivery. Your claim moves through these stages:

Stage	What it means
Awaiting claim	You have won. The claim window is open and waiting for you.
Claimed	Your claim has been received.
Verified	Your details have been checked and accepted.
Delivered	Your prize has been handed over.

The link marked "See how this was decided" opens the auction result, so you can check the ranking that awarded you the prize.

11. When an Auction Is Run Again

An auction that closes without a winner can be run again rather than cancelled. The new round is a fresh auction for the same item, and it carries a code that extends the original — for example 199 becomes 199-R1.

11.1 You Are Never Charged Twice

Every bid you already paid for in that auction becomes a free bid in the new round.

If you paid for 5 bids and then place 8 in the re-run, the first 5 are free and only 3 are charged. Those 3 then carry into a third round if there is one. Across the whole series you only ever pay for the largest single round you took part in.

11.2 Being Told About It

Everyone from the previous round receives an SMS when a new round opens. It tells you that the auction is being run again, how many free bids you have, and from which bid a fee starts again. If the new round is not open to you, you are told that instead.

12. Your Profile and Language

The banner shows your phone number, how many bids you have placed, across how many auctions, how many you have won, the fees you have paid and when you joined.

12.1 Changing Your Display Name

Your display name is what appears on the winners board when you win.

1. Open your profile.
2. Type the name you would like to use.
3. Select Save.

12.2 Changing the Language

GuessLow is available in English and Amharic. Use the language buttons on your profile, or the En / አማ switch in the header. Your choice is remembered.

12.3 Getting Help

Your profile also lists a support telephone number, along with shortcuts to My Bids and My Wins and the full terms and conditions.

13. Frequently Asked Questions

Question	Answer
Does the lowest bid always win?	No. The lowest unique bid wins — the lowest amount that only one person chose.
How much does it cost to take part?	You pay the bid service fee shown on the auction for each bid you place. It is not refundable.
Am I charged the amount I bid?	Only if you win. The winner pays their winning amount in addition to the fee.
Can I see what other people have bid?	Not while the auction is running. All amounts are revealed once it closes.
Can I bid the same amount twice?	No. Each of your bids on an auction must be a different amount.
How many times can I bid?	Up to the maximum shown on the auction page. Your remaining allowance is displayed as you bid.
Can I cancel or change a bid?	No. A bid is final once it has been placed and confirmed.
How will I know if I have won?	You receive an SMS, and the auction appears under Wins in the app.
What if I do not claim in time?	The prize is forfeited and may be offered to the runner-up, so claim before the deadline.
What happens if nobody wins?	The item is not awarded. The auction may be run again, and the bids you paid for carry over free of charge.
